

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGESSTION

1.1 CONCLUSION

From the results of research on the influence of media toward children language production concluded that the results of the research that was obtained about the influence of media that are used daily. Basically the media does have an influence on its users , however the evidence points to one direction the media affects people differently, depending on program what shows are viewed from the media, this can happen because children like to watch cartoons every day from the habit of watching cartoons that make them very easy to imitate both physical behavior and the language behavior.

Based on 4 out of 6 children who were made as respondents from this study their language production was influenced by the media, that means in here is the vocabulary from the cartoons film they watch every day is carried away in their daily lives when playing with his friends, naming animals around them according to the film program they watch from the media they used and also when communicating with family or even with friends which is carried on everyday and often said and used by the child as language production.

1.2 SUGESSTION

Based on the conclusion above, the researcher provides some suggestions here

1. For the Student, this study discuss about the influence of media toward children language production so they can take this study to reference of the study and the can take more knowledge about the influence of media toward children language production with detail explanation.
2. For the Readers, This study makes every one more knows and understands about how the media influence child language production.
3. For other researcher, This study expected can give a reference to other researchers who want to study child language production. Probably, they can enlarge the study in the language production by analyzing in another way.